++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
A dry and bright day, feeling warm in the sunshine.

Today:
A dry day for most with sunny spells developing into longer sunnier intervals by the afternoon. Feeling warm in the sunshine and light winds. Some drizzle may affect far west Cornwall later in the afternoon. Maximum temperature 22 deg C (72 deg F).

Tonight:
Any drizzle in the far southwest will clear through the evening to leave a dry night across the southwest with some long clear spells. Minimum temperature 12 deg C (54 deg F).

Monday:
Mostly dry with sunny spells. Some early cloud in the northeast will break-up with further cloud developing for the afternoon and giving the odd light shower over the moors. Maximum temperature 23 deg C (73 deg F).

Outlook for Tuesday to Thursday:
Fine and dry weather for the next few days, with prolonged spells of sunshine and feeling warm in the sun, however a little breezy along coastal areas. Cooler on Thursday.
